3

1. The best you can do is to leave.

"best" is used as a noun in this sentence.

The correct answer is 'True'.

2. John is the best pupil in the class.

the best - it's a superlative followed by a noun. The class - it's the class John goes to, that's why definite article is used.

The correct answer is 'True'.

3. One tenth of a thousand is a hundred, and a thousand thousands are a million.

a is used as "one".

The correct answer is 'True'.

4. Prague is the capital of Czech Republic.

the definite article before "Czech Republic" is missing. Czech Republic is an official name, therefore it must be preceded by "the".

The correct answer is 'False'.

5. We usually have the dinner at 7 p.m.

dinner is used in general meaning, therefore zero article. Compare: The dinner I had yesterday tasted awful.

The correct answer is 'False'.

6. Most people go to the church only on Sundays.

they go to church to pray, that's why zero article is used. If they went there to admire the interior, then "the church" would be used.

The correct answer is 'False'.

7. I would like to apply for a position of LAN administrator which was advertised in the last edition of Computer World.

"the" must be used before "position" because we know what position it is. "the last edition" is correct because we know what edition of the journal it is.

The correct answer is 'False'.

8. Customers may pay by credit card.

in some frequently used phrases no article is used after a preposition. This is one example of such a phrase.

The correct answer is 'True'.

9. What a good milk this is!

"milk" is an uncountable noun. The indefinite article isn't used with uncountable nouns.

The correct answer is 'False'.

10. I found chewing gum in bed again!

no article is used before "chewing gum" because it is an uncountable noun; but in "the bed" because it's not mentioned in connection with sleeping.

The correct answer is 'False'.
